Retired?

The USU is still your union

The United Services Union is an amalgamation of the Federated Municipal Employees Union, NSW Division and the Australian Services Union, NSW Clerical & Administrative Branch.

Your contribution to the United Services Union has been vital to the success of the union and its fight for workers and their families. Your continued support of the Union is important to us and the General Secretary invites you to continue your participation with the Union through the USU Retired Members Club.

The Retired Members Club offers you many of the services available to USU members and enables the Union to have the benefit of your experience.

The Club is open to all long-serving members and officials of the USU and we encourage you to join. Please read this brochure for more details on what your membership will deliver.
